LOCAL OFFICERS ASSIST IN RAID

Sheriff Jones and Chief Wilfong
Have Part in Raiding a Camp
North of Connersville Monday

TWO MEN ARE ARRESTED

Ten Gallons of Whiskey and Over
$2,000 in Money Found—
Tipped Off From Rushville.

Sheriff E. M. Jones and Chief of Police Arvey Wilfong of this city assisted in a raid yesterday morning at nine o'clock, when a camp located six miles north of Connersville was raided, and four men arrested and charged with having liquor in their possession, after ten gallons were found, and a large amount of money found on the persons of those arrested.

The local officers were deputized by the state representatives of the federal prohibition office who have been making searches in this part of the state. Besides the local officers and the state officers, the raid was also participated in by Sheriff Steele of Connersville and Patrolmen Hamilton and Jones, also of that city.

The state officers conducted the raid with the others assisting, and it is said that the information about the camp was furnished by two Rushville men who came here Saturday in an intoxicated condition, stating that they secured their supply from the camp north of Connersville.

Two of the men were released, Paul Warfel, age 34, and Herbert Hudson, age 26, were placed in the Fayette county jail, but released yesterday on bonds.

The charge against Hudson is for having liquor in his possession, and he was released on $1,000 bond and two charges were placed against Warfel, one for selling liquor and the other for having liquor in his possession.

The ten gallons confiscated was "raisin' jack," of the best variety, and a five gallon jug was also found that had just been emptied, which gave the officers the idea that it had been sold.

Over $2,000 were found on the persons of the men arrested in the raid, and $715 was found on Warfel, which caused the officers to believe that he was the treasurer, and the charge of selling liquor was placed against him.

The camp is located six miles north of Connersville, near the Waterloo bridge, on the east bank of White river, and it is said by the of-

CAPTAINS URGED TO MAKE THEIR REPORT

Elks Committee in Charge of Salva-tion Army Home Service Appeal
Wants to Close Campaign

SOME GRATIFYING REPORTS.

Although yesterday was the time fixed for the final reports to be made by canvassers in the Salvation Army Home Service appeal, none except those in the city of Rushville have reported. The Elks committee which has charge of the campaign to raise $5,000 in Rush county, has very urgently requested that captains of teams appointed throughout the county, make a report at the earliest possible moment so that the campaign may be closed.

All of the reports which have been made by team captains in Rushville, have been very gratifying and it is felt that if the townships do as well as the early reports in the city indicate, there will be no difficulty in reaching the allotment set for Rush county.

Some advance word has been received from part of the townships, all of which indicates that they will not fall behind in the requests made of them. Assurances have been sent from several townships that they will make up their share. The point is, however, according to the committee, that the canvassing should be completed and the reports made as soon as possible.

ABOUT $58,000 SPENT IN STATE

Frederick A. Joss, Wood's Organizer
For Indiana, Testifies Before
Senate Committee

INTERRUPTIONS BY REED

Says He's Curious to Know Why
They Looked Up Law to See
Limit Which Could be Spent

By United Press

Washington, June 1.—Between $57,000 and $58,000 was spent in General Wood's Indiana campaign, Frederick A. Joss, Wood's organizer for Indiana, told the senate campaign expenditure's investigating committee today.

He said the Indiana state corrupt practice act "was complied with in every respect," although other candidates took the view that the state law did not apply to presidential primaries.

Joss said General Wood personally appointed him Indiana manager at a conference January 5 but added he had conferred with Wood and Col. Procter last August or September.

"At that time it was thought Governor Goodrich would be a candidate and there was some doubt as to whether Wood would enter the primary as a candidate," Joss said.

"When you thought Goodrich would be a candidate, did you expect to make an active campaign?" Reed asked.

"I think we did," Joss said.

He said the legal opinion on the Indiana law was obtained shortly after Goodrich withdrew.

"I am a little curious that the very first thing you did was to look up the law to see the top limit of the money you could spend," Reed said.

"We were up against the republican organization," Joss said, and our only chance of success was—

"Money," Reed broke in.

"Let him state it in his own words," Pomerene shouted.

"Our only hope was in popularizing General Wood," Joss continued.

"And you tried to do that because you expected to get the money?" Reed asked.

Robert Wolfe, Columbus, Ohio, newspaper publisher, testified concerning the Harding presidential campaign.

He said, "I expect the Wood and Harding campaign in Ohio each cost about $100,000," but denied exact knowledge.

TO UNSEAT DELEGATES PLEDGED TO GEN. WOOD

Sub-Committee Report on Florida's
Contested G. O. P. Delegation
Indicates Probable Action

ONES FAVORED AGAINST WOOD

By United Press

Chicago, Ill., June 1.—Indications at the opening of the republican national committee contest hearing today were that General Leonard Wood would lose the claimed delegates-at-large.

A sub-committee report on the Florida contest involving three sets of delegates indicated it would move to unseat the "regulars" pledged to General Wood. They previously eliminated groups pledged to Governor Lowden.

The group apparently favored was designated only an anti-Wood.

Further time for argument was given the two delegations and the committee's first task was the hearing of the contest from the District of Columbia.

The Wood delegates from Florida headed by National Committee men George Bean and the sub-committee reported this group had violated the state primary law by failing to enter the 1916 primary to name a new state central committee.

The black and white question was involved to a lesser extent in this case.

OBSERVANCE OF HOLIDAY GENERAL

Tribute Paid to Dead in Every Com-munity in Rush County on Sun-day And Monday

SERVICES ARE HELD HERE.

The Rev. L. E. Brown Speaks at An-nual Celebration Under Auspices of the G. A. R.

Lieutenant Joseph A. Bishop of the aviation repair depot at the Speedway, Indianapolis, went to Arlington Sunday and decorated his wife's grave in Arlington East Hill cemetery. The appearance of the plane attracted a large crowd.

Tribute to the soldier dead of Rush county was paid in services held in practically every community Sunday and Monday.

Practically all of the observances took place Sunday, with the exception of the annual celebration under the auspices of the Joel Wolf post of the Grand Army of the Republic in this city, which was held in the court house assembly room Monday afternoon.

Business was practically suspended here Monday, which was officially proclaimed to be Memorial Day by reason of the fact that May 30 fell on Sunday this year. Most stores were closed all day and the remainder a part of the day.

A number of Rush county people attended the automobile race at the Speedway in Indianapolis and others spent the day's vacation with a picnic or fishing party.

Few graves in East Hill cemetery, or any other cemetery in the county, were barren for people as a rule set aside Memorial Day each year to pay tribute to the dead.

The Rev. L. E. Brown delivered the address at the G. A. R. services here Monday afternoon. The program opened with the singing of America and a prayer by the Rev. G. H. Sheldon of the First United Presbyterian church. Mrs. Lillie Armstrong, a former Rush county woman who is visiting here, read Lincoln's Gettysburg address, which was followed by the singing of "The Battle Hymn of The Republic." Mrs. Ida Lee of this city gave a reading "The Battle of Gettysburg" and Mrs. William M. Bainbridge gave "Lee's Surrender." Proceeding the address by the Rev. Mr. Brown, the audience sang "Marching Through Georgia" and the closing song was "God be With You 'Til We Meet Again". Captain J. A. Tench of the Salvation Army pronounced the ben-

VOTE OF LEGISLATURE IS HELD TO BE FINAL

Supreme Court Rules Attempt to Withdraw Ohio Ratification of Dry Amendment Unconstitutional

PREVENTS NEW REFERENDUM

By United Press

Washington, June 1.—The Ohio referendum of last November, as the result of which the state attempted to withdraw its legislature's ratification of the prohibition amendment is unconstitutional, the supreme court today decided.

The court held that the ratification of any constitutional amendment by legislature is final.

It also granted an injunction restraining the state officials from submitting the woman suffrage amendment to a referendum next fall.

Ohio's legislature ratified the prohibition amendment but the wets succeeded in calling a referendum and the voters decided against national prohibition.

Proceedings were at once started to unable Ohio to withdraw its ratification and the state supreme court in Ohio decided the referendum was legal.

TWO CASES HEARD IN COURT TODAY

Jury is on Hand But Cases Are Dis-posed of Quickly Without Their Services

TWO NEW SUITS FILED TODAY

Court Upholds Amos Stevens, Con-tractor, And Releases Him From His Road Contract

Two civil cases set for trial in circuit court today, were quickly disposed of this morning, without the services of the jury which had been summoned and was on hand ready to be examined to hear the cases.

The case of Frederick Hillgoss against Florence Duke, administratrix of the estate of Walter G. Duke was dismissed by agreement, and the costs were placed against the plaintiff. The case was a claim of $257, and was placed on the issue docket after the administratrix had failed to pay it according to the laws in such cases.

Amos U. Stevens, a contractor, who filed a complaint last week against the county board of commissioners, asking to be released from building a highway in Richland township, was upheld by the court this morning, and he will not have to build the road.

It will be recalled that the commissioners awarded him the contract for building the road, over a year ago, but the bonds were unable to be sold, and the petitioner asked to be released from the contract, because of the fact that building material and labor had so increased that he could not profitably build the road at the contract figures of 1919.

A case filed by Phillip Miller on an account demanding $200 from Fred Knecht was dismissed in court today, and the costs paid by the plaintiff.

Two new suits were filed this morning, one being brought by Fred McCrory against his mother Mrs. Fanny McCrory, asking the court to appoint a guardian for her, as she is 88 years of age, and not capable of managing her own affairs.

Ray Thornburg and Park Thornburg, doing business under the firm name of Thornburg brothers, have filed a complaint on judgment demanding $225, proceedings in attachment and garnishment against Jesse and Frank Vandiver. The complaint states that the court allowed the plaintiffs judgment few months ago, but so far have been unable to collect, and the suit filed today is an attempt to secure the former judgment.

19 MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED LAST MONTH

June Will Have to Hustle Some in Order to Make Good on the "Month of Brides" Record

FOUR ISSUED ON SATURDAY

There were 19 marriage licenses issued by the county clerk during the month of May, which is almost a record for the month, and it will now hustle the month of June, commonly known as the month of all-months for brides, to beat the record set for May.

The month of May also set the record for the largest number of licenses to be issued in a single day, when on the 15th, a total of seven licenses were issued.

Those that obtained licenses to wed during the week-end were Alonso Ayres, of Indianapolis and Mary Rider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rider of this county; Clifford O. Richey, a student, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Richey of Milroy and Mabelle L. Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morris of this county; Bishop Goodman and Irene Taylor of this city and Earl Ashcraft, a farmer and Margaret Stevens, daughter of Henry Stevens of Oswood.

MACHINE IS ALMOST DEMOLISHED BY FIRE

Five Passenger Touring Car When Leaking Oil is Ignited by Spark

BELONGED TO GEO. NEWLAND

A Maxwell five-passenger touring car belonging to George Newland, 333 West Tenth street, Rushville, was almost demolished by fire Sunday afternoon about eight miles south of this city and Mr. Newland's hands were severely burned in attempting to extinguish the flames. The car was insured and it is expected that the insurance will cover the loss.

Mr. Newland bought the car recently and Sunday when he started out with his family in the machine, was aware that the oil was leaking. He was told that no trouble would result, but this was the cause of the fire as the leaking oil was ignited by the spark and set fire to the machine.

Mr. Newland and family started to the home of his brother-in-law, William Clark, on the Logan farm, south of the city, and the car "went dead" a short distance from the place. They went on to Clark's house and returned after dinner and while trying to start the machine, it caught fire. The body and top were demolished and only two of the wheels were saved.

PALMER ACCUSES POST IN INQUIRY

Assistant Secretary of Labor Tries to Block Enforcement of Deportation Laws, He Says

ANSWER TO POST STATEMENT

Witness Refers to Wholesale Jail Deliveries and Release of Self-Confessed Anarchists

By United Press

Washington, June 1.—By his wholesale jail deliveries and release of self-confessed anarchists of the worst type," Assistant Secretary of Labor Post is seeking to block enforcement of deportation laws and to bring into "public disrepute" law enforcement officers of the government. Attorney General Palmer today charged before the house rules committee.

Palmer's statement was in answer to Post's recent testimony before the committee during hearing on a resolution of Representative Hoch which would start impeachment proceedings against the labor department officials.

Post claimed Palmer had mis-treated aliens held for deportation and violated the laws regarding them.

Palmer's statement revealed bitter strife between the two departments over the deportation question.

Palmer declared that red agitators were seeking to minimize activities so they could proceed unmolested.

"The I. W. W.'s are seeking to merge the railroad brotherhoods into one big union," he said.

"Forty examples in which Palmer cited Post had violated the deportation laws, were cited by Palmer to show that Post's charges were outrageous falsehoods.

DIES IN LEXINGTON, KY.

Rushville Woman Succumbed to Typhoid Fever Sunday

Mrs. Thomas Miller, aged 20 years, died Sunday in a hospital at Lexington, Ky., of typhoid fever and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sager of 333 North Sexton street, left immediately for that city. Mrs. Miller was formerly Cora May Sager, and had been married for two years to Mr. Miller of that city. A five months old son survived her.

Millions for a New Stomach

One of the greatest American millionaires said to his physician, "A million dollars, Doctor, spot cash and no grumbling, for a new stomach," and then the sick man groaned and turned away. All his wealth could not make him happy or contented, for happiness largely depends upon digestion. Without health where does happiness come in? After all the stomach plays a great part in everyday life. Without a healthy stomach and good digestion our blood is thin, watery and poor, our heart action is weak, our liver does not do its duty, and man is miserable and unhappy. Prevent disease by putting the house in order and strengthening the system against the germs of disease.

Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y., years ago understood diseases and their prevention, and he discovered certain roots and herbs which were nature's remedies, and succeeded in putting them up in a form that could be easily procured at the drug store (liquid or tablets). This he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This Discovery gives no false stimulation because it contains no alcohol or any narcotic. It helps digestion and the assimilation of such elements in the food as are required for the blood. It gives to the blood the food elements the tissues require. For over fifty years it has enjoyed the confidence of the American public. Try it now!

Jake Stewart Takes Place of Sam Buckner in Court House Today.

Jake Stewart began his duties this morning as custodian of the Rush county court house, succeeding Samuel Buckner, who resigned a few weeks ago, his resignation to become effective today. The commissioners appointed Mr. Stewart a few days ago, and his appointment was made from several applicants. Mr. Buckner left the city this morning for Connersville, where he will visit for a few weeks before deciding upon his future work. Mr. Stewart has been qualifying for the position for several days, as Mr. Buckner was teaching him the manner in which the building must be attended to.

CENTENNIAL GETS UNDER WAY MONDAY

Indiana University Entertains Thousands This Week When Anniversary is Being Celebrated

PAGEANT IS ON PROGRAM

(By United Press.)

Bloomington, Ind., June 1.—Celebration of the centennial of the foundation of Indiana University was in full swing here today.

The activities started early Monday with a flag raising on the campus. At 7 a.m. the senior class assembled on the campus for the ivy and tree-planting exercises. Later in the day the Alumni Council, composed of many prominent men and women, met in the faculty club rooms for a conference.

Approximately 3,000 alumni were here for the event, which will continue for a week. Business was practically suspended, except at hotels and restaurants and other stores which were swamped.

Today was "alumni Day." The election of alumni trustees and a business session of the Alumni association was on the program for this morning. At 10:30 o'clock, the all-university convocation, will be held in the gymnasium.

One of the important features of the celebration will be a pageant starting today and showing the history of the university during the 100 years of its existence. Twelve hundred persons will take part in the pageant.

NEW BAILIFF APPOINTED

Frank Havens Will Become Grand Jury Bailiff on Thursday

Frank Havens, a former policeman of this city, has been named grand jury bailiff by Sheriff E. M. Jones, and will succeed George Aultman, who has acted in that capacity for several terms. Mr. Havens will be on duty Thursday of this week, when the grand jury will be in session, having been called by Judge Sparks for that date. It is not known just what will come before them, but Sheriff Jones and his deputies will be busy in the next day or so summoning the people who will testify before the jurors. Several Glenwood people will be called before them, it is stated, so that the accident of a few weeks ago, which resulted fatally for a small child, may be investigated.

Extends to the good people of Rush county its appreciation of the cordiality with which it has been received.

With a score of years association among some of the most successful Millers of the Country, we offer you the service of accrued acquaintance and experience. We will make our homes among you, share your fortunes and misfortunes, build a mutual confidence based on honorable and upright dealings at all times, spend a large portion of what it may be our good fortune to make here—doubtless bringing most of the capital for the promotion of this Rush county industry from outside sources. It will be our fixed policy to put more into this county than we take out.

We Propose:

To pay top prices for your wheat.

To ship your products in the form of flour-finished, rather than raw material.

To employ local men. Every dollar paid in salaries goes to men who spend their money among you.

To improve the plant and equipment from time to time that this plant shall be the pride of your county.

We Ask You:

To give us first chance on all your wheat in order that most shall be realized for this county in having its products exported in finished form.

To buy our brands whenever possible thus promoting our mutual interests.

To visit us often with your encouragement, advice, and your moral support.

The present would seem a very opportune time to dispose of any surplus wheat. Several causes combine to make this so. We are paying fancy prices for it.

A Distinguished Service LabelMUNSING UNION SUITS*A good investment

When you buy underwear, do you give it the same consideration that you would an investment?

Do you investigate its merits, its qualities, its reputation to be reasonably sure that for each dollar you put into undergarments, you will take out a goodly profit in comfort, fit, wash, wear, service, satisfaction?

Perhaps, like some people, just because it's underwear, unseen and seemingly less important than outer clothes, you think only of weight and price of garment, trusting to luck that your choice will fit, wash and wear well.

It doesn't pay to take underwear chances, to buy it on the "hit or miss" plan when it's just as easy to buy underwear with all the essentials to give you 100 per cent return upon your investment.

A brand we like to recommend to our customers, one that we believe from our experience to be 100 per cent right, is—

The Automobile Fad.

Few people realize the way the automobile fad has grown on the United States. The automobile is also popular in other countries but the number of cars owned and the per capita distribution does not compare with that of this country.

One person in every fifteen living within the confines of the United States of America owns a car—almost enough to carry all of the people in Uncle Sam's territory, were it not for the fact that there are so many drivers. At the present growth of popularity, it will not be long until we will all be riding in our own machine or one belonging to our neighbor, because the per capita distribution is growing larger every year.

One person in every twenty-three drives his own car in Canada, but in Great Britain only one person in every 268 owns a car. The percentage in France is one to 102, one to 684 in Germany, one to 1,000 in Italy, one to 2,700 in Austria and one to 5,300 in Russia.

The total number of cars registered in this country is approximately 7,100,000, in the Dominion 350,000, and in England 180,000. Canada showed increased registration in 1919 of 13 percent. Ontario was the banner province, with a registration of 127,860 passenger cars and 11,428 trucks.

Canada employs 15,000 workers in the automobile industry, which represents an investment of $50,000,000. In 1919, 94,000 automobiles were manufactured in the Dominion, with a total sales for the year of approximately $100,000,000. The annual wages of persons in the industry totals $15,000,000.

Rural Canada owns more than half the cars operated in the Domi-

New Tasteless Castor Oil Always Marked Kellogg's

To Get Genuine Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil, Insist on Laboratory Filled and Labelled Bottles

If you want a really tasteless castor oil, insist on Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil. Every bottle is filled and labelled at the laboratories of Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc. Genuine is sold only in bottles plainly labelled Kellogg's. In strength and purity Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil is exactly the same as the old-fashioned disagreeable kind, except that the nauseating taste has been absolutely removed. It has the same healing and soothing qualities that have made castor oil a household remedy. Nothing has been put in to disguise the taste. Children will take Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil willingly. You can now get Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil at all good druggists. Accept no substitutes. Ask for labelled bottle, laboratory filled, marked Kellogg's, if you want a really tasteless castor oil. Two sizes, 35c and 65c. (Advt.)

inion, and in the prairie provinces the percentage is greater.

It is estimated that the total Canadian production of automobiles in 1920 will be increased 35 percent over 1919.

Car Shortage And H. C. L.

It is charged by representatives of Middle Western States who have appeared before the Interstate Commerce Commission, that car shortage is largely responsible for the high cost of living. They state that in Minneapolis elevators there are 17,000,000 bushels of wheat sold many months ago, and 35,000,000 in country elevators throughout Minnesota, with almost as much more in the hands of the farmer, that cannot be moved for lack of transportation. In Kansas it is said that $146,000,000 worth of grain is held up. The utter neglect of the Federal administration, during its two years of railroad control, to continue to pay the price of government mismanagement.

It is said the White House will do "something audacious" to prevent repudiation at San Francisco. W. J. B. better watch out. Maybe they plan to "knock him into a cocked hat."

As a bright and shining example of administration efficiency, the case involving the escape of Grover C. Bergdolt, wealthy draft evader, seems to take the first rank.

The Senate has passed the shipping bill and it is expected the differences between the two houses on merchant marine questions will soon be adjusted and thus another great piece of constructive lawmaking will have been accomplished.

Every man believes in himself. A few believe in him.

He-Adjectives Needed To Describe William E. Borah

You need adjectives to describe William E. Borah, the two fastest of all the Presidential possibilities.

Borah's parents named him William Edgar, but everybody else calls him Bill.

That's one thing that pretty adequately describes him. Another is that while he hates a teaparty or kindred social function like poison, he's heartily at home in any kind of a shindig.

In the Senate there is a whole-some respect for Borah's might in debate, and few are those who will tackle him single-handed. They usually try it in packs, and nineteen times out of twenty Borah routes the pack. Added to his native Celtic wit and gift of repartee is the training of a lawyer who learned to be quick in a school where to be a fraction of a second too slow meant to be the guest of honor at a funeral.

Borah is out of the west. He's a product of the wild and woolly days of the Idaho copper camps, days that are not so long past. He was born in Wayne county, Illinois, on June 29, 1865, so that this year he is 55 years old. He got his three R's and his prep schooling in Illinois and then went to the University of Kansas, where they taught him law as it is in the books. He migrated to Idaho where he practiced law as it is—or was—in the mining camps.

Borah got a reputation for courage in those days when nearly every man was either a brave man or a dead one. He was elected prosecuting attorney, and undertook the job of wiping out the copper-camp banditry that was then in full swing. The war was on between the copper companies and the I. W. W. One time a bunch of bandits swooped down on a copper camp, shot it up and departed, with four or five murders to their discredit.

They had arranged an alibi very carefully to prove that at the time of the rumpus they were in another town, a score of miles away. Borah learned that they had ridden to his town atop a freight train, and had leaped from the moving train, carrying their weapons.

The men were arrested and their counsel contended at the trial that no man carrying a carbine could leap from that particular freight train and get by without breaking some bones.

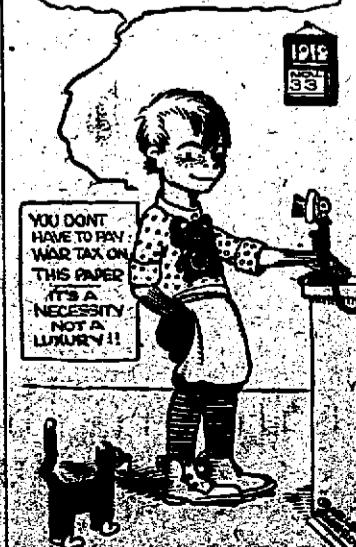

"Let's see about that," said Borah. So he got aboard the same freight train, which passed through his town every night, and rode on top of a car over the rough mountain road, while the train swayed and lurched. At the station platform, the train was going thirty miles an hour or better. Borah stood up atop the car. He was armed and accounted as the bandits had been. He leaped to the station platform, and landed on his feet. The jury convicted the bandits.

Borah helped prosecute in the Moyer-Haywood Pettibone cases and was hot at and threatened repeatedly because of his connection with the case. He stuck to law, even as a public official, until his state sent him to the senate in January, 1907. He was re-elected in 1913 and again in 1918.

Borah was one of T. R.'s devoted followers who left the republican party when the Bull Moose bolted the herd. Borah is one of those progressives who nowadays are called radicals. It is a curious contradiction.

IDAHO SENATOR A REAL SON OF THE BIG WEST

1865—Born in Wayne County, Ills.

1889—Admitted to the bar.

1890-1—Practiced law at Lyons, Kans.

1891—Moved to Boise, Idaho.

1895—Married Miss Mamie McConnell at Boise.

1903—Beaten for U. S. Senate.

1907—Elected to U. S. Senate.

1912—Re-elected.

1908-12—Member Republican National Committee.

1918—Re-elected to U. S. Senate.

tion in his record that he's always been against woman suffrage through amendment of the federal constitution.

His fight on the League of Nations in the Senate, where he was the first to raise his voice against it, made him an international figure. He conducted the campaign of the "irreconcilables" and conducted it so shrewdly that he and his little band of twelve or thirteen absolutely dominated the whole senate.

Any morning, rain or shine, you can find Borah astride a horse jogging or galloping through Rock Creek Park in Washington. That's how he keeps up the "pep" that enables him to work twice as hard and long every day as most other senators.

Borah is a home loving man, who can sit in his library and have what he terms "a real time" with his books. Borah is a great reader, a student of history and economics. For his recreation Borah would rather ride horseback than anything with the exception of taking his daily sling at the league of nations. At his Idaho home it is a common sight to see the senator out at 4:30 o'clock in the morning riding over the foothills of Boise. Invariably he is accompanied by his wife. Borah knows horseflesh as well as your Kentucky colonel and many is the time he has held the stop watch on some promising filly.

Borah does not drink and he does not smoke, but he does not carry it to the extent where he opposes it among his friends. He will take his glass of water and tell his stories over it with as much vehemence as his friends do (or did) over their scotch and soda.

The Idaho solon has one of the most beautiful homes in Idaho and takes a pride in its appearance. When in Boise he usually can be found in a pair of overalls with his sleeves rolled up working in his garden.

Borah married Miss Mamie McConnell at Boise, April 21, 1895.

INFANT CHILD BURIED

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. George Burkman, 526 North Arthur street, was buried Sunday at East Hill cemetery.

RENEWED TESTIMONY

No one in Rushville who suffers backaches, headaches, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Rushville man's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Rushville resident can doubt.

E. L. Hinkle, 815 N. Jackson St., says: "Sharp pains in my back radiated to all parts of my body and I was hardly able to walk. I couldn't rest well, owing to my kidneys acting irregularly. I found no relief whatever until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Nine boxes of Doan's entirely cured me and made me feel like a different man. The terrible pains in my back left and my kidneys again acted regularly."

MORE THAN FIVE YEARS LATER, Mr. Hinkle said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me is still lasting. I never have anything more serious now than an occasional tired feeling across my back. A few doses of Doan's soon fixes it up."

HOW TO FIGHT INSECT ENEMIES

"Paper Collars," Trap Crops, Hand Picking, Crop Rotation, Bran Mash and Sand and Kerosene Mixtures Are Used by Wise Gardeners to Save Crops From Destruction.

(Written for the United States School Garden Army)

Making soil conditions favorable for vigorous plant growth.—This means to thoroughly prepare the soil to hoe the crops carefully, and to add sufficient commercial fertilizer to keep the plants continually growing. Plants growing under such conditions will resist a limited amount of insect injury.

Rotation of crops.—An ideal plan would be not to plant the vegetables in the same section of the garden more than once in four years.

Selecting season.—Cabbage should be grown as a winter crop. Cucumbers should be grown as an early spring crop. In both cases the plants are well started before their insect enemies appear.

Preparation of soil.—June cabbage plants can be protected from maggots by planting seeds in a soil not rich in manure. Make the seeds bed soil mellow by adding sand and coal ashes, and supply plant food by adding commercial fertilizer. Winter cabbage can be protected from maggots by mixing finely ground tobacco stems into the soil where cabbage is to be planted.

Hand picking.—Tomato worms, harlequin bugs, and cucumber beetles are partially controlled in this way. If the gardener goes out early in the morning he will be likely to find cutworms within the upper 2 inches of soil around the plants that have been cut off.

Paper collars.—If when cabbage, tomato, and pepper plants are transplanted into the garden, paper collars are placed around the stems so as to protect 2 inches of the stem in the soil and 2 inches of the stem above the soil, the plants will not be cut off by the cutworms.

Bran mash.—Bran mash is also used for cutworms. It is made as follows: One quart of bran, one tablespoonful Paris green or 4 tablespoonsful arsenate of lead, 1 cup of molasses, and enough water to make a mash that will be rolled into balls. Mix the bran and poison, then stir in the sweetened water. The mixture should be moist but not wet. Prepare at noon and apply at night, sparingly around base of plants.

Sand and kerosene.—This is used to prevent maggots. It is prepared as follows: Mix 2 tablespoonsfuls kerosene in 1 gallon of dry sand. Apply sparingly about base of plants.

Covering plants.—To protect cucumber and melon plants from the striped cucumber beetle, the plants should be covered with cheese-cloth until the vines begin to run. To protect June cabbage plants from cabbage maggot cover the seed bed with cheesecloth.

Cutting out.—Squash borer is

On this date Miss Frona Brown of Indianapolis will appear in character songs.

The "She Tiger"—Mystic

"The She Tiger," a stirring tale of love and intrigue along the Mexican border, is being shown at the Mystic today.

The story of "The She Tiger" centers around Juanita, leader of a band of Mexican bandits who have been looting American border towns and attempting to overthrow the government of Mexico. Crossing the border, Juanita, with one of her band, is secretly on her way to California, to buy munitions from William Nelson, in violation of the United States embargo law. She meets Captain Boyce of the U. S. regulars, who is engaged to Clare Nelson.

When she learns that Boyce was responsible for the execution of her brother as a bandit-spy, she swears revenge and succeeds in forcing Clare to break her engagement with the captain. Juanita's hate soon turns to love; but after the Captain spurns her she has him accused of the murder of a woman. He is convicted and sent to prison. How Boyce is finally exonerated of the charge and goes to the rescue of Clare after she had been taken prisoner by Juanita's bandits, furnishes a thrilling climax to the production. A raid on a border town by Mexican bandits provides one of the many exciting episodes.

The cast includes Greta Hartman, Alan Hale, Frances Burnham, Edwin Cecil and Willard Louis.

KILLED BY FRENCH SOLDIER

Arnold Heide is Shot and Government is Asked to Investigate

(By United Press)

Berlin, June 1.—General Leonard, chief of the French commission to Upper Silesia, has been asked by the American mission to investigate the shooting of Arnold Heide, American lecturer, killed by a French guard in Berlin yesterday.

Only vague reports had been obtained about the killing of the American. They stated that French authorities stopped a train on which Heide was riding, arrested him and while he was disputing with the soldiers, was shot by one of the French guards.

WIND PLAYS HAVOC SUNDAY

Light Wires Torn Down by Falling Limbs and Current Was Off.

A strong wind preceded a light rain Sunday evening about 7:30 o'clock and many people stated that because the wind was blowing high, probably saved this city from a cyclone. The wind swept through the city from the south and carried branches from trees, and did considerable damage to the electric wiring. The city wires were torn down in several places and linemen worked all day making repairs. The entire northwestern part of the city was cut off during the storm and the power was not turned on until noon yesterday. Several trees were blown down in many parts of the city, and one tree in West Third street held up traffic for several hours. An automobile driven by O. L. Carr ran into the tree, and was slightly damaged.

MOTHER OF FIRST AMERICAN SOLDIER KILLED IN FRANCE

Mrs. Alice Gresham Dodd, First War Mother of the Nation Gives Entire Credit For Recovery of Her Health to the Well Known Medicine, Tanlac.

MRS. ALICE GRESHAM DODD.
of Gavin Park, Evansville, Ind.

The following remarkable endorsement of Tanlac was given recently by Mrs. Alice Gresham Dodd, at the Gresham Memorial Home, Gavin Park, Evansville, Ind., which home was presented to her by the patriotic people of Indiana, as evidence of their appreciation of the services rendered to this country by her son, Corporal James B. Gresham, the first American soldier killed in France. Expressions of sympathy were received by Mrs. Dodd from all parts of the United States and the newspapers of the country carried the story of the first "war mother."

The shock of her son's death resulted in the serious breakdown of Mrs. Dodd's health, but everyone will learn with interest and pleasure that she is now in splendid health again. When seen at her home recently she made the following statement, giving the entire credit for her recovery to the well-known medicine, Tanlac.

"After my dear boy's death, I had a general breakdown in health," said Mrs. Dodd. "At first it was just indigestion. My food used to upset me and I had to diet myself very carefully, which wasn't much hardship as I lost all desire to eat. Then I had an attack of rheumatism, with severe pains in my shoulders, back and arms. Sometimes I used to suffer a great deal, and my joints would get all swollen up and stiff. I was able to do very little about the house, and at times couldn't even cook a meal. I got very nervous and restless, and at night would lay awake for hours, and lost

TRYING TO GET RID OF PRUSSIANISM

Prussian Militarism Has Done Much to Damn Germany And to Disrupt Her Business and Future

TO OVERTHROW THE GOVT

Prussian Officer Has Shown Signs of Even Trading With Bolshevism to Further His Ends.

By CARL D. GROAT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent.)

BERLIN, May 29—Germany is passing through the throes of a belated house cleaning as regards Prussian militarism.

That is to say, she is trying to rid herself of this scourge but is finding, for one reason and another, that the old-style, iron faced, insolent, monarchial Prussian militarist is hard to down.

He has done much to damn Germany before the world. At present he is doing much to damn Germany further, and, if he succeeds, to disrupt her business and her future.

The people—as a whole—don't want him back. They proved that when they rose up as one man during the Kapp coup and said, "Out with the reactionaries and the militarists".

But, the Prussian militarist didn't heed that warning. On the other hand, he saw how simple it was to make a coup with a handful of daring soldiers. Since then the genus, Prussian officer, with some exceptions has been busying his head with how to overthrow the government and hang to his military job.

The principal thing with the average Prussian officer—again with the exception of some who are republican-minded—is to hold his job, and if possible, re-established the good old days" when everybody kow-towed, clicked their heels, and made way for the almighty militarist.

The situation as regards militarism in Germany runs thus:

After defeat of the German army, many officers naturally were dismissed and there has been a steady diminution under armistice and treaty terms. Many an officers today is doing work of an almost menial character. The story runs that one general is a night baggage porter at one of the big Berlin stations—spun off even by the other porters. Some are said to be driving trucks. This may or may not be true, but in any event it can be said truthfully that more than one German officer is doing work now he would have scorned a few years ago. The militarists still in the army want to stay there. They dream of the day when "Germany will come back" and smite France.

These men, stuck away in corners, yet very influential, are responsible for hiding out guns and munitions on the allies. The civil government—at least allied officers declare—is and has been trying to be on the level about fulfillment of the treaty's disarmament clauses.

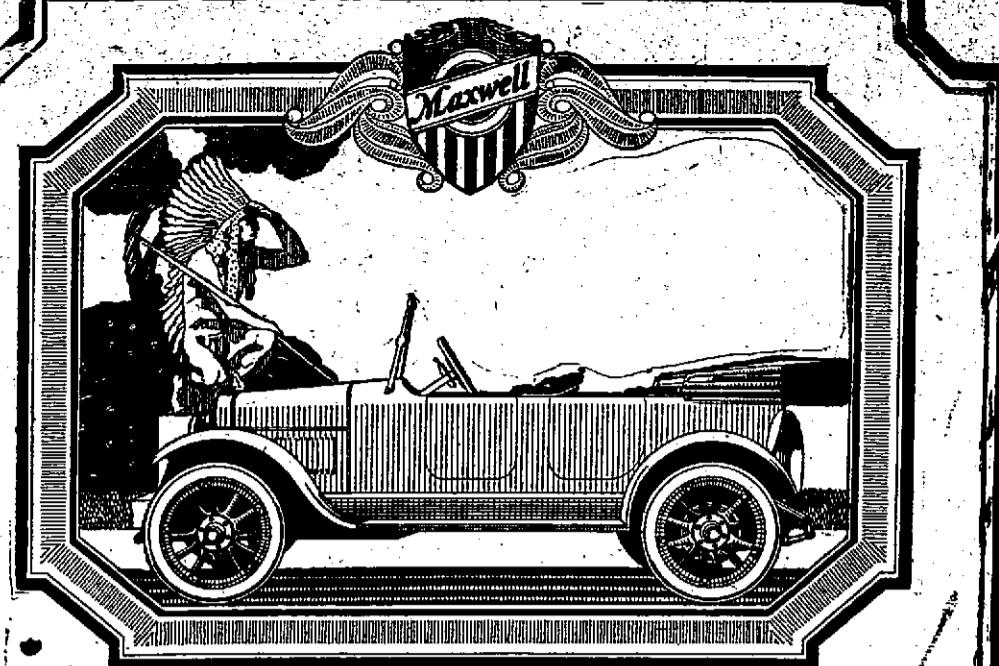

The old Prussian clique patted Noske on the back, and then plotted behind him. Many supported Ehrhardt. Many who did so are still in important posts. Many are defiant. Take the Ehrhardt brigade. The members say openly, "We don't care anything about this government. We defy them, to try to disarm us."

And, in all corners of the country, the Luetwitzts, the Bischoffs, the Bauers, the Ehrhardts are nursing their hatred against the new scheme of things in Germany. They are yearning for the "old days" when it was "Gott mit uns fuer Koenig und Reich".

"Mid-April saw an outburst of reports of a new "putsch" brewing over the entire country, but centering out of Pomerania. The news was stilled down quickly; but it can be said from reliable sources that the government still expects trouble from the militarists and junkers. Pomerania, a fruitful land, is run by fat, prosperous junkers. They have seen the handwriting on the wall, and the writing says, "The German people want more of a say in their own affairs; they want food at reasonable prices; they don't want to be servants under the heel of a bloated land aristocracy as in other days".

(And, because they have seen this vision, the Pomerans "Gutsbesitzer," as the landowners are named in their own tongue, have planted demobilized Baltic troops—the hardest, fiercest fighters of the whole German outfit—all over their farms. These men can be whipped into a small army any minute. They'd rather fight than well-work on a farm.

All of which shows, perhaps, superficially, but to some extent, what the Government's problem is.

Special Steels Eliminate Useless Weight in a

MAXWELL

The reason the Maxwell engine is so responsive and yet thrifty, the reason the tires roll into big mileage is due largely to one fact: A Maxwell is burdened with no useless weight.

Special steels make this so. They are made to Maxwell's own formulae. No other steels in any car are just like them.

These special steels are of great strength and make possible the ideal Maxwell construction of brute strength with light weight.

Obviously, they are high priced metals. They equal, pound for pound, the steels in any car built.

The wisdom of their use in the Maxwell becomes evident when one observes the rapid growth in public favor of this remarkable car.

Consider that nearly 400,000 of them are now in use; that 100,000 more will be added to this total in 1920.

Oneal Bros.

The new defense minister, Gessler, has found he was dealing with a lot of very incorrigible people. He has issued orders for dismissals of certain officers only to find a week or two later that the orders were merely dumped into the waste basket.

Dissolution of the Ehrhardt brigade was pledged. But how to do it. The government hasn't solved the problem so far and has, in fact, manifested a decided timidity. They say it would mean gathering a larger army of loyal troops than they can secure. And further, it would mean a fight to the death—a slaughter, for the Ehrhardt men are bad fighters and a sort of fatalists who don't care whether they live or die.

Somebody taunted Gessler in the national assembly one day about

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

IT is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten," to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over.

I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store I owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I made many mistakes, the last several of which on the market had become convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user; which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply acting on the upper digestive tract, others on the lower, and act only on the bowels or large intestines, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Lewis's Remedy, which I truly believe goes further.

TAIL LIGHTS WIN A SHUTOUT GAME

Rushville Base Ball Team Defeats Louisville Jazz Jazz Babies Sunday, 2 to 0

A GAME HERE NEXT SUNDAY

WIN Open in Rushville on West Third Street Diamonds Playing Andersonville Club

The Rushville Tail Lights added another victory to their list Sunday, when they defeated the Louisville Jazz Jazz Babies on the West Third Street diamonds, by the close score of 2 to 0. With excellent support given McCarty, the local team played a tight ball and played a shutout game. Sensational fielding for the Rushville club also helped to win the game.

The Tail Lights will open in this city next Sunday on the West Third street diamonds, having Andersonville as their opponents. The manager of the Tail Lights stated today that Mayor Irvin has consented to pitch the first ball. Tickets for this game are on sale at Greeley's pool room, Wright's Barber shop and the Blue Goose Club on West Second street. Following is the line-up and summary of Sunday's game:

REPORT $168,625 RAISED.

Indiana-Michigan Province Has Given That Sum to Salvation Army Home Service Fund.

Indianapolis, Ind.—(Special)—The States of Indiana and Michigan, which are joined as the Indiana-Michigan province of the Salvation Army, have raised a total of $168,625 in the enrollment for funds for the Home Service Appeal, it was reported here today at the state headquarters of the Indiana committee directing the enrollment work.

About 50 per cent. of the amount reported represented Indiana subscriptions, it was said.

Major Arthur R. Robinson, chairman of the Indiana committee, said the active work in Indiana has just begun. "The canvass for the Home Service Fund was delayed by the political activity of both parties in the primary campaign and the subsequent state conventions," the chairman said. "With the political campaigns out of the way in Indiana we are now able to recruit full-strength organizations in practically every county and the enrollment is being carried forward with redoubled effort.

"Our goal is a fund of $452,000, which is to be used for social welfare and home service work and the erection of new buildings in cities and towns where the present facilities of the Salvation Army are entirely inadequate and too out-of-date to meet the constantly increasing requirements of the work the Salvation Army is doing for the unfortunate and improvident citizens who are compelled to seek the aid of the Army."

HALF-MILLION SPENT BY SALVATION ARMY

IMPROVEMENT OF INSTITUTIONS
IN INDIANA AND MICHIGAN
SHOWN IN PROVINCIAL REPORT.

HAD TO MORTGAGE PROPERTY

Indianapolis. — (Special). — Because the skimpy contributions that used to be cast into the tambourine of the Salvation Army workers were too small to meet the burdens undertaken and kept up in the regular work of the army the organization had to mortgage its buildings and institutions in order to meet its expenses.

This fact has just been made known here through a report by the provincial officer of the Indiana and Michigan province, Lieut.-Col. Albert E. Kimball. The announcement was made at the headquarters of the Salvation Army Home Service Appeal, which is carrying on an enrollment of the friends of the Salvation Army in Indiana from May 10 to 20. The enrollment is being made to provide support for the army in this state the coming year.

Nearly half a million dollars will have been spent by the army in the province composed of Indiana and Michigan during the twelve months ending May 31. Of this amount $308,192 had been spent on January 31 last and there remained a reserve of $166,000 to be expended between then and the end of May, making a total for the year of $474,201.

In the liquidation of mortgages on the property of the army $33,560 was expended. For the purchase and erection of new buildings to accommodate the greatly increased work of the organization $37,200 was used.

The debt which presented the big handicap to the organization in this province as well as in practically all others, was one which had grown out of a long period of sacrifice, charity freely given and insufficient support. The necessary financial aid was not forthcoming to the army, although it has been common custom for years to send all applicants for public aid to the Salvation Army's local headquarters.

With the contributions insufficient but unwilling to curtail its work or permit a single case of need to go unaided the organization mortgaged its property in order to raise funds to keep the good work going on. This circumstance has now been changed by a new plan of support which gives every good-fellow a chance to do something to aid the destitute and the unfortunate. Through the Home Service Appeal every friend of humanity and every admirer of the Salvation Army will be enrolled for an annual offering to keep up the work of salvation and make it unnecessary for the army to have to mortgage its buildings again.

ALAS, HONEY GOING UP!
By United Press.
WATERTOWN, Wis., May 29.—Now the bees have cut down production. Honey will cost more than ever this year.
Wisconsin bee raisers and honey producers say they face heavy losses on account of the continued cold weather. The clover and other honey yielding crops have been stunted in growth, preventing the steady increase in the strength of the colonies, they said.
Bee colonies that come through the winter in poor condition will be unable to gain enough strength, the bee fanciers said, to gather the honey crop until the season is nearly ended.

this dissolution question.

"I invite you to undertake the matter," retorted the minister, causing a laugh but thereby showing that he is in reality powerless—or afraid of the proposition.

So it goes everywhere. South Germany, always a hater of Prussia, has been talking secession especially if the Einwohnerwehr be dissolved as demanded by the entente. And, the hard-boiled, plotting officer sees a chance to play this as another trump against the government.

Moreover, the left side of the political show is sore. And the Prussian officer has shown signs of even trading with Bolshevism to further his ends.

Day or night—twenty-four hours a day if you choose—you can utilize the Fordson. Like the machines in the factories, the Fordson furnishes power that is always ready for use—a power that means a saving in labor and time. And for that reason, the Fordson is a money maker.

Back of the Fordson is the Fordson service organization—convenient and insures you continuous use of your tractor.

Don't delay ordering your Fordson. The demand is away in rotation.

FIRST IMPRESSION IS REAL SURPRISE

Ed. L. Keen Sketches First Impression of Home After Sojourn of Four Years in Europe.

H. C. L. HITS AMERICA HARD

Another Discovery Has Been That Prohibition Does Not Prohibit—In New York

By ED L. KEEN

(European Manager of the United Press)

New York, June 1.—Rediscovering America is far more interesting than was anticipated, although I haven't yet revisited any portion of the United States proper—merely its principal ally, Manhattan Island.

The first impression was a surprise. Nearly everybody was wearing real clothes, instead of overalls. Having in mind the stories recently cabled over to London by the correspondents in America of the British newspapers, describing the rise and spread of the overalls movement, I had expected to find the whole population attired in blue denim or brown canvas. But so far I have seen very few workmen, even, in overalls; in fact, a good many men here engaged in menial occupations are wearing what appear to be silk shirts.

The next was a shock. I suddenly discovered that my English-made suit didn't fit. That I hadn't observed this before is probably due to the fact that where it came from other men's also didn't. So I dug up another suit made in America, which I had purchased at an American department store in London only a few weeks ago. It fit reasonably well, but comparing the cut and style with American clothes I had seen since my return there seemed to be something not quite right about it. An obliging friend to whom I appealed promptly diagnosed the suit as a left-over from the crop of 1916, but when he kindly offered to introduce me to a tailor friend who as a special favor to him would make me a proper up-to-date suit for $125, I decided to wait a while in the hope of a revival of the overalls campaign.

Now my English-made suit had cost in London $55, and the American left-over $65. Precisely the same sort of clothing could be bought before the war for $25 to $35. It is true that Millaby-Deeley, M. P., in his laudable effort to break the middlemen's strangle-hold in that country, is now selling "made-to-measure" suits for from $25 up, but he has so many orders on hand that the prospects of ever getting one are almost as hopeless as going on the waiting list for membership in the Metropolitan Club.

H. C. L. generally appears to have hit America as hard, if not harder than England, where the prices of food-stuffs, hotel accommodations, etc., have always been lower than in this country. My first dinner in New York cost $2.50. Four years ago I ate the same kind of meal at the same place for $1.50. In a restaurant of the same class in London the same meal today would cost $1.75, as against $1.00 before the war.

Another discovery was that prohibition doesn't prohibit—in New York. Reports reaching London from America had indicated since the first of the year a steadily increasing degree of dryness throughout the United States—as well as in New York, which, according to latest advices, had become practically arid. My disillusion was early and thorough.

On the night following my arrival I was one of a dinner party at a prominent Broadway cabaret. Cocktails and champagne cup were served at a number of tables and throughout the big room glassware containing fluids of suspiciously similar appearance could be seen. There was almost no camouflage, although the cocktail glasses didn't wear stems like they used to, and there was no popping of corks. In the lobby I had watched for a few moments other arriving guests. Quite a number of them were carrying parcels or hand-grips. I noticed that they did not check these in the cloak room but when they finally appeared on the dining floor the bundles had vanished.

Shortly before leaving England I had read in the London Times a lugubrious article on the effects of prohibition, written by an Englishman who had been visiting America. His verdict was that prohibition had taken all the joy out of American life; that sprightliness and wit and laughter had disappeared from dinner-tables; that the spirit of gloom now brooded over all evening functions.

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

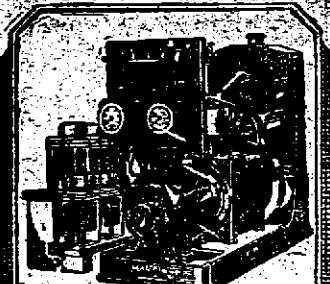

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!

Money back without question if HUNT'S Salve fails in the treatment of ITCH, ECZEMA, RINGWORM, TETTER or other itching skin diseases. Try a 75 cent box at our risk.

tions. He must have been unfortunate in his selection of dining places. Certainly there was no lack of merriment, or even exuberance, at the first dinner party I attended on my return. But, perhaps I was applying English standards of hilarity.

Also, perhaps when I revisit the real United States, I'll find another sort of prohibition.

What Kills A Storage Battery

If YOU let a windmill tank become nearly empty repeatedly, the staves will soon fall to pieces. Exchanging a storage battery below the danger point repeatedly has a similar effect on the battery plates. A Matthews plant does not permit this. Long before they are exhausted to the danger point, the "Automatic Care-taker" automatically starts the generator recharging and stops it automatically when the batteries are full.

MATTHEWS FULL AUTOMATIC TRADE MARK

ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER PLANTS

protect an overloaded battery against heating by automatically taking ALL the load on the generator. But if the generator can't carry it all, the batteries automatically "eat in" again and both bear the burden. Any plant that does less than this is NOT Full Automatic and is out of date the day it is installed.

Matthews rating is based on one hour service. A ZONE battery lasting a reserve supply.

Six Sizes, $443 Upward

ARMY LIFE MADE ENGLISHMAN LAZY

(By United Press)

London, (By Mail)—Employers complain that Army life has made men lazy. The demobilized soldier is not "putting his back into it" as he did in pre-war days.

Everywhere the same report is returned from banks, shipping houses, department stores, and other commercial concerns. Many managers sigh regretfully for the hard-working efficient feminine staffs who "carried on" in the men's absence and who have so quietly given up their jobs to make room for the returned men.

While some employers are apt to chafe at this apparent indifference to work on the part of their clerks, others broad-mindedly make allowances for it.

One city magnate who employs many men, stated his opinion as follows:

"In wartime all these men were forbidden to think for themselves. Initiative was a crime. They got into the habit of waiting for orders. This method, transferred into commerce, is fatal. However, for five years it was ingrained into the men and they are not going to outgrow it all of a sudden. They have become slothful—there's no doubt about that. But many of them are battered men—wounded or gassed, or victims of soul-shocked. What can you expect?"

Meantime, employers are glad to have the young, new blood coming into their offices—the youths who are only just now emerging into manhood and are unspoiled and unrewarded by war.

Movements of "Big Dipper."

The naval observatory says that the "Big Dipper" moves in a circle around the pole star once in every 23 hours, 56 minutes, this being the length of a sidereal day. When above the pole the constellation moves from east to west; when below, the pole, from west to east. The motion is apparent only, being due to the actual rotation of the earth, and, like the diurnal motion of the sun and moon, takes place in the opposite direction to that of the earth's rotation.

GASOLINE UP AGAIN; 37 CENTS NEW PRICE

Garages to Advance Retail Rate
Two Cents, Following Increase by Standard Oil.

TO BE 30 CENTS WHOLESALE

Raised from 28½ Cents—The Total
Increase to Six Cents
Since Jan. 1.

Major car owners will experience another shock this week when they find that their garage man has added 2 cents extra on the cost of gasoline. No notice of the pending increase was given forth from the Standard Oil Company that the wholesale price will be advanced from 28½ to 30 cents a gallon. The new rate will be effective at midnight tonight. To meet this increase the manager of one of the large upper Broadway garages said yesterday that after that time the prevailing retail price for motor car fuel will be 31 cents. The New York garage price is now 30 cents. The Automobile Club of America has been charging its members 24 cents and it had been possible to buy gasoline at most of the way stations for 21 or 22 cents.

The present rate went into effect two months ago. It followed an increase of 2 cents since the first of the year, the new rate effective this month, an advance of 6 cents.
